Nebraska Christian College Volleyball team in the ACCA National Volleyball Tournament

Papillion, NE, November 4, 2009

The Nebraska Christian College women's volleyball team has qualified for the 2009 ACCA national tournament. The event is being hosted by Southwestern Christian College in Bethany, Oklahoma. Nebraska Christian College is one of eight teams that have qualified for this year's tournament. The tournament has been divided into two pools and on Thursday and Friday (November 5th and 6th) there will be round robin play within each pool of four with the top two teams of each pool advancing to a semifinal round. The championship rounds will be played on Saturday November 7th.

Sarah Kaelin, first year head coach, is looking forward to the national tournament. "I think the girls have been playing well the second half of the season and I hope we come out on top," said Kaelin. "The strength of the team has been in our ability to develop a mental toughness that has allowed us to win more consistently," she continued.

The team is 9-11 heading into the tournament and is seeded as the second ranked team. They will open play on Thursday at 9:00 am against Grace Bible College out of Grand Rapids, MI.

The ACCA is the Association of Christian College Athletics and generally its members are small Bible or Christian Colleges.
